

A THANK YOU TO OUR REVIEWERS

Pachyderm, like any refereed journal, relies heavily on its reviewers. These people contribute immensely to the quality of the journal, working unpaid and invisibly. Some have even agreed to work especially quickly to help us to meet publication deadlines. We would here like to acknowledge those who have reviewed papers over the last five issues. If we have overlooked someone, we apologize—and blame the oversight on the crash of our computer hard disk that we underwent a few months ago, wiping out most of our old records.
